

Combat Robotics @ Cornell
Project Team

WHO WE ARE

Combat Robotics at Cornell is a student-run engineering team focused on creating a unique outlet for innovation, engineering, and creativity. As the first robotics club of its kind at Cornell, we aim to collaborate and design robots to compete in competitions including the annual Norwalk Havoc Robot League; specifically, we build two 12-lb remote-controlled, and one 3-lb autonomous robots using advanced mechanical design skills with an emphasis on novel solutions.

Since October 2019, the team has grown to over 50 dedicated members specializing in various disciplines, such as mechanical engineering, computer science, business, and design. The multidisciplinary skills of the team facilitate innovation and creativity, greatly contributing to victory in battle.
